

Density of Farmers' Markets

Do residents of each Health Reporting Area (HRA) have access to a local Farmers' Market? This measure gives a rate of the number of farmers' markets by population. The King County average is 3.4 markets per 100,000 people. Vashon Island has the largest concentration of markets to population; 17 HRAs have no Farmers' Markets within their boundaries.

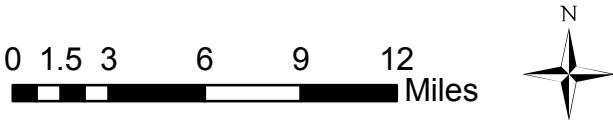

Caveats: Farmers' Markets may only operate part of the year, with limited days of operation. To get more information: www.pugetsoundfresh.org or <http://www.wafarmersmarkets.com/>.

Farmers' Markets per 100,000 population by Health Reporting Area King County, Washington, 2012

Legend

Farmer Market Density

- 1.5 - 2.9
- 3.0 - 5.7
- 5.8 - 9.4
- 56.5
- No Farmer's Markets

Data from: King County Department of Parks and Natural Resources, 6/2012
http://www.pugetsoundfresh.org/farmers\_markets.asp

King County Average:

Population estimates: Provisional, D. Solet, 5/2012.

Produced by: Public Health - Seattle & King County; Assessment, Policy Development & Evaluation Unit, 10/9/2012

